

What to do if your issue isn't resolved

If you've followed our internal customer complaints procedure and you're not satisfied with the outcome, your complaint can be investigated by the Communications Ombudsman Services. These regulatory bodies are independent of Aerial Direct and you'll not be charged for making a complaint.

If you have a financial service and you wish to make a complaint, please contact the Financial Ombudsman Services. If you don't have a financial service but wish to make a complaint, please contact the Ombudsman Services. Prior to making a complaint to the regulatory bodies, a period of 8 weeks should have passed to allow Aerial Direct the opportunity to resolve your initial complaint. You will not be charged for making a complaint from the initial proposal to the final implementation.
